BESPOKE FINISHES. TECHNICAL KNOWLEDGE. MODERN DELIVERY

McCormick Construction Consultancy has extensive experience delivering complex architectural stone packages that require the seamless coordination of multiple disciplines, subcontractors, manufacturers, and stakeholders. We understand that successful projects are built on collaboration, communication, and meticulous planning long before installation begins. Our team works closely with architects, engineers, main contractors, manufacturers, and specialist suppliers to ensure every aspect of a project is fully coordinated, from design development and technical detailing through to manufacture, logistics, installation, and final remedial works. This integrated approach allows us to identify potential challenges early, provide practical solutions, and maintain programme certainty throughout.
